INTERESTS CATTLEMEN.

Controversy Between Chicago Packers and Commission Men.

Chicago, May 18.—A controversy is on between the packers and the commission men at the stock yards which is of vital interest to cattle raisers throughout the country. The point at issue is whether the packers or commission men, which means the shippers, shall stand the loss on cattle by the condemnation of carcasses by the government inspectors at postmortem examination.

TO BE INVESTIGATED

Court Orders Inquiry Into the Orchard Interview.

CHARGES BY THE DEFENSE

Claimed That Attempt Had Been Made to Influence Jurors by Bolstering Up the Credence That May Be Given to the Prisoner's Story.

Boise, Ida., May 18.—Judge Fremont Wood, who is presiding at the Steunenberg murder trial, has directed the prosecuting attorney of Ada county to make an investigation of the circumstances under which Harry Orchard was interviewed for publication Thursday and to take any legal steps that his inquiry showed to be warranted.

Judge Wood drew attention to the publication of the interview when he ascended the bench and his request of counsel for advice as to the manner in which the court should deal with the incident brought from the defense the charge that Governor Gooding and certain newspapers, moved by the disclosure that there exists prejudice against Harry Orchard, had sought to influence the jury by an attempt to bolster up the credence that may be given to Orchard's story. The defense suggested that Governor Gooding be cited for contempt.

Counsel for the prosecution defended Governor Gooding and the newspapers included within the charges and showed that the applications for the interview with Orchard had been made weeks before the examination of talesmen disclosed the prejudice against him. They in turn charged that while some of the talesmen were entering court Friday morning, men indirectly connected with the defense had made remarks within their hearing that were calculated to influence them and this affair is also to be made the subject of inquiry by the county prosecuting attorney.

Felt Something Must Be Done.

In calling attention to the Orchard interview Judge Wood said that perhaps its publication was not an attempt to influence the jury, but as it was calculated to influence jurors he felt that something must be done to prevent a recurrence of such a thing. James H. Hawley for the state expressed his regret over the publications of the interviews with Orchard and disclaimed responsibility for them. The court drew attention to the utterances of Governor Gooding in connection with the statement that Orchard is not to have immunity for his confession and at a suggestion from Mr. Richardson that the defense could not speak freely in the presence of the jury, requested all talesmen to leave the room for an hour.

Mr. Richardson first exonerated the prosecution from all connection with the incident and then said: "For a period of more than fifteen months Mr. Orchard has been incarcerated in the penitentiary in the state and secluded from all observers as far as possible and guarded in every possible way to prevent any communication with the outside. It occurred Thursday at the examination of one of the jurors that there was some question of the amount of credence that should be placed in the testimony of Orchard. The governor of this state, who has done things which have been questioned throughout the entire United States if not the civilized world, having the supreme charge of the penitentiary of this state, and his appointee Mr. Warden Whitney, who has at all times been his subservient and agreeable advisor and assistant in all that he has done, took the Associated Press representatives and that particular portion of the newspaper fraternity who are reporting this case agreeably and colorably upon the side of the prosecution to the penitentiary Thursday to interview Harry Orchard.

Done to Influence Jurors.

"It is as patent as the fact that I stand here that it was done for the express purpose of influencing these jurymen, for the purpose of rehabilitating Mr. Orchard, for the purpose of giving him credibility in the eyes of this jury and the eyes of the world and it was a dastardly outrage upon this defense."

Mr. Richardson drew attention to the statement of Governor Gooding that no promises had been made to Orchard, and said:

"If it has not been entirely patent to the whole civilized world that the governor of this state never intended that we should have a fair trial for these defendants here, it is patent at this time."

Mr. Darrow, who followed Mr. Richardson, said in part:

"Of course, there can be but one purpose in this joint reception of the governor and his friends for Orchard, and that was to influence this case at this time. It seems to me that this effort to give Mr. Orchard credence must have come directly from the disclosures made by the examination of various jurors as to what they thought of Orchard and his confession and that in view of this they have permitted the newspaper men to see him and give out a lot of stuff which upon its face was manufactured, a lot of mud—idiotry—a man telling about books on religious subjects he has been reading, in face of his whole attitude of mind for his whole life, and the governor coming in and stating something that must appear to every intelligent man as being absolutely untrue—that this man deliberately placed his neck in the halter without any hope of reward and scattering that broadcast when we have got twelve men in the box and fifty unexamined."

The court interrupted to send for the prosecuting attorney and when Mr. Darrow resumed he suggested that the governor be called before the court. Mr. Hawley said he had just finished reading the interview and suggested that possibly both the defense and the court were under a misrepresentation. He defended the Boise papers and told of the constant circulation throughout the country of papers in the interest of the defense that had maimed the prosecution in order to create false impression as to the motive of the prosecution and to misstate what purported to be the evidence in the case.

He said that the condition of Orchard had been absolutely misrepresented and misunderstood and that the newspaper men had only interviewed Orchard in order to satisfy the demand of the public in regard to the prisoner's condition.

Operated Against Prosecution.

Mr. Hawley declared that he did not believe that Governor Gooding was seeking in any way to create prejudice. He said that the matter operated against the prosecution rather than the defense.

Senator Borah said that he declined to submit to the proposition that the newspapers had interviewed Orchard for the purpose of influencing the jury. He said that if he could have had his way he would have long ago put Orchard on exhibition, for he knew that the minute it was done this precise condition of affairs would arise. He, too, contended that if the Orchard interview reflected upon either side it was upon the prosecution. He declared that he would not believe that Governor Gooding would do anything to disqualify them from getting a jury.

The other development of the day was the arising of a question as to the right of the state to enjoy ten peremptory challenges. The state had formerly but five, but at the last session of the legislature, which was subsequent to the assassination of Governor Steunenberg, the law was amended, giving the state ten, the same as allowed the defense.

The question was whether this amendment constituted an ex-post facto law. After argument the court ruled that the law was not ex-post facto and that the state had the right to ten challenges.

The fifth peremptory challenge, representing a total of three by the defense and two by the state, has been made and at adjournment an effort to fill the place made vacant was in progress.

United, there are fifteen more challenges to be exhausted and of the special venue of 100 only 34 remain.

WANTS $6,000 FOR LOSS OF FINGERS

John Mattson Files Personal Injury Against Northern Pacific Company

HURT IN BLACKSMITH SHOP

Lost Four Fingers in Cog Wheels on "Bulldozer" in February 17th, 1906

The Duluth News-Tribune has the following concerning a suit emanating from Brainerd:

"John Mattson filed a personal injury suit in the United States district court yesterday against the Northern Pacific Railway company demanding $6,000 for the crushing of his right hand and amputation of a thumb and two forefingers."

"Mattson was employed by the company at the shops in Brainerd in the capacity of blacksmith helper, assisting at a ponderous iron working machine called a "bulldozer." The foreman of the shop, Ed. Crust, the plaintiff alleges, had given Dan Lind, with whom Mattson was working, full charge of those working near him. On February 17, 1906, Lind ordered Mattson to clean the machine and wipe it off with waste."

"While wiping the shaft, which was in rapid motion, Mattson had his hand caught in the cog wheels and it was drawn in and crushed so severely that the amputation of the three members was necessary."

In passing sentence Judge Albright said that in view of the fact that Mr. Holden was out of town at the time and that his place had always had a good reputation he thought he was entitled to some consideration and that he would make the penalty lighter than he otherwise should, and passed a sentence of $20 and costs which was paid.

A friend of Henry Towers received a letter from him a few days ago stating that he has had poor health since he was taken from Brainerd. He writes, "I was almost blind from the kicks and blows that I received, and was unable to do the work I was put to do—the doctor here treated me and fitted my eyes with glasses, and I am some better now; but I have suffered more than I can tell you—and I do pray to God that a new trial will be granted me."

MUSIC AND DRAMA

For Her Brother's Sake

Last night again proved that a popular priced show does not necessarily mean a poor show. The performance of "For Her Brother's Sake" was one which deserved a much better crowd than attended and was of the class that is usually popular in this city. It was a light melodrama with a bright strain of comedy running through it. While not a deep problem play it contained enough of heart interest to hold the attention of the audience from start to finish. The situations were some of them startling and the play was well presented. Miss Etta Rayner, as Bonnie, a foundling, was a whole show in herself and her portrayal of the soubrette character was much above the average. Mr. Barnard Craney, as William Cosgrove, played the polished villain in traditional form and succeeded in getting himself well hissed by the gallery gods. L. Traub Brixton, as Gabriel Kredman, the rascally Jew landlord, was a combination of comedian and villain which took well with the crowd. The minor parts were well taken and the play was well staged.

A WOMAN OF MYSTERY

In offering Miss Courtenay Morgan in "A Woman of Mystery" we feel that you will feel that you will fully appreciate our endeavor to give you the best in theatrical entertainment at the lowest possible living price. Knowing that the play was played by Madam Bernhardt for 480 nights in Paris is proof of its worthiness. You, or most of you, already know Miss Morgan's ability. It only remains for us to state that we have spared neither time or expense in giving this production the most correct and elaborate scenic equipment possible and in engaging nothing but the best artists for the supporting company.

We hope that you will encourage us to offer more of this kind of high class attractions by your presence at its performance at the opera house tonight.

HOME FROM TEXAS

Col. Freeman Thorpe and Family Arrived From the South Today to Occupy Their

Hubert Home for the Summer Col. Freeman Thorpe, Minnesota's famous portrait painter, accompanied by Mrs. Thorpe and two daughters, returned this afternoon from Galveston, Texas, where they have been spending the winter and went to their farm at Hubert to spend the summer. Mr. Thorpe has been very busy this winter on portraits of notable people. In response to the inevitable query about the weather he said that they had green corn there before they left and that field corn was in tassel. The weather, he stated, was uncomfortably warm. Here's hoping he brought some of the weather along with him.

CHARGED WITH ASSAULT.

Secretary of Democratic Congressional Committee Arrested.

Washington, May 18.—Charles A. Edwards, secretary of the Democratic congressional committee, has been arrested charged with assault with a dangerous weapon. He was released on bonds until Monday.

It is alleged that Edwards assaulted Alejandro Garland, an attaché of the Peruvian legation, in front of the fashionable De Soto apartment house at Thirteenth street and Massachusetts avenue, N. W. Garland, accompanied by a Mrs. Louise Scott, reached the apartment house shortly after midnight. Edwards had been near there for some time. The men became involved in an altercation, which resulted in a fight. It is charged that Edwards stabbed Garland. Information as to his condition has been closely guarded. It was understood that Garland did not care to prosecute Edwards, but after an investigation by the police, the janitor of the apartment house entered a complaint.

GAIN FOR STRIKERS.

Four Hundred Strikebreakers Join the Longshoremen.

New York, May 18.—The striking longshoremen made something of a gain when 400 strikebreakers quit work on the piers of the White Star Line and joined their fortunes with those of the men whose places they had taken. The steamship company was left with only its crews to do the work of unloading and loading. One stevedore contractor in Brooklyn made terms with the strikers, granting the concessions sought.

Wonderful Eczema Cure

"Our little boy had eczema for five years," writes N. A. Adams, Henrietta, Pa. "Two of our home doctors said the case was hopeless, his lungs being affected. We then employed other doctors but no benefit resulted. By chance we read about Electric Bitters; bought a bottle and soon noticed improvement. We continued this medicine until several bottles were used, when our boy was completely cured." Best of all blood medicines and body building health tonics. Guaranteed at H. P. Dunn & Co.'s drug store, 50c.

PIERS AND FREIGHT BURNED

Half a Million Dollar Loss From Fire in New York.

New York, May 18.—Fire destroyed the piers of the Morgan line owned by the Southern Pacific railway on the Hudson river at the foot of Canal street, Manhattan. A large quantity of freight stored on the pier and in the sheds was destroyed, and several ships narrowly escaped. The loss will reach $500,000.

The Best Guaranty of Merit Is Open Publicity.

Every bottle of Dr. Pierce's world-famed medicines leaving the great laboratory at Buffalo, N. Y., has printed upon its wrapper all the ingredients entering into its composition. This fact alone places Dr. Pierce's Family Medicines in a class all by themselves. They cannot be classed with patent or secret medicines because they are neither. This is why so many unprejudiced physicians prescribe them and recommend them to their patients. They know what they are composed of, and that the ingredients are those endorsed by the most eminent medical authorities.

The further fact that neither Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, the great stomach tonic, liver invigorator, heart regulator and blood purifier, nor his "Favorite Prescription" for weak, over-worked, broken-down, nervous women, contains any alcohol, also entitles them to a place all by themselves.

Many years ago Dr. Pierce discovered that chemically pure glycerine, of proper strength, is a better solvent and preservative of the medicinal principles residing in our indigenous, or native, medicinal plants than is alcohol; and, furthermore, that it possesses valuable medicinal properties of its own, being demulcent, nutritive, antiseptic, and a most efficient antiflammatory.

Neither of the above medicines contains alcohol, or any harmful, habit-forming drug, as will be seen from a glance at the formula printed on each bottle wrapper. They are safe to use and potent to cure.

Not only do physicians prescribe the above, non-secret medicines largely, but the most intelligent people employ them—people who would not think of using the ordinary patent, or secret medicines. Every ingredient entering into the composition of Dr. Pierce's medicines has the strongest kind of an endorsement from leading medical writers of the several schools of practice. No other medicines put up for like purposes has any such professional endorsement.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation. Constipation is the cause of many diseases. Cure the cause and you cure the disease. One "Pellet" is a gentle laxative, and two a mild cathartic. Doctors sell them, and nothing is "just as good." Easy to take as candy.

BYSTANDER IS KILLED

Shot by Detective Who Fired at Crowd of Strikers.

TRIED TO LYNCH OFFICER

Policeman Prevented Hoboken, N. J.,
Mob From Carrying Out Its Purpose.
Rioting, Violence and Accident Mark
Street Car Strike at Evansville, Ind.

New York, May 18.—A fatal shooting and a desperate attempt to lynch the man who fired the shot marked the strike of longshoremen in Hoboken. The man who lost his life was an innocent bystander, Harry Marshall. He was struck by a bullet fired by Benjamin Vincent, a private detective who had been employed on one of the docks affected by the strike, at a crowd of strikers with whom he had quarreled and who were pursuing him.

The trouble that resulted in the shooting began as Vincent entered a saloon near the docks and asked for a drink. As the bartender passed the bottle to him one of the striking longshoremen who were in the saloon shouted:

"Don't give it to him, he's a scab." Vincent denied the implication, but the bartender withdrew the bottle and refused to serve him.

Just what happened then is not known, but a moment later Vincent dashed into the street with a revolver in his hand and a crowd of strikers at his heels. As he reached the street he turned and fired at his pursuers. Marshall was standing on the sidewalk and the second bullet from Vincent's revolver struck him in the head and killed him instantly.

When Marshall dropped to the sidewalk the strikers started toward Vincent with cry of "lynch him! lynch him!"

Vincent turned and sped down the street with the revolver still clutched in his hand and the angry mob only a few feet behind him.

When a policeman barred his way the fugitive swung his revolver up as if about to fire, but the bluecoat sent him rolling into the street with a bullet in his leg.

When the furious pursuers dashed up and demanded that the man be turned over to them, the policeman held them back at the point of his gun. He stood over the prostrate Vincent and held the mob in check until several other officers arrived and assisted him in taking the prisoner to a police station.
